RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

Dave Donaldson (MIT) Contracted Researcher Jan 2026 – Present

- Developed an IV framework for nonparametric revealed-preference testing with time-varying preferences; derived testable bounds and optimal-instrument formulas, characterized valid recentered instruments, implemented moment-inequality inference, and assessed finite-sample size and power through Monte Carlo simulations
- Bank credit and development in India (David Atkin, Abhiman Das, Jeremy Majerovitz): built a firm–district concordance using historical pincode crosswalks and district harmonization; linked ∼ 3M firm-years to RBI data

Erika Deserranno (Bocconi University) & Silvia Vannutelli (Northwestern University) Predoctoral Fellow Dec 2025 – Present

- Managers and the organization of remote work at INPS (Italy's social security agency): analyzed a worker-day panel of ∼30,000 employees across ∼500 offices; estimated AKM-type effects with KSS-corrected variance decomposition; designed matched stacked event-study DiD for staggered treatment adoption, accounting for heterogeneous effects (Mahalanobis-distance and propensity-score matching, and synthetic-control methods)
- Public-sector maximum wage in Liberia: difference-in-differences designs on payroll, audit and survey data

Leonardo D'Amico (Princeton University) & Francesco Nuzzi (Harvard University) Research Assistant Jan – Apr 2026

- Large-scale, time-varying geospatial analysis of US fertility, population density and housing prices

OECD – WISE Centre (Paris) Policy and Data Analyst (Internship) Jan – Dec 2025

- Inequality of opportunity (machine-learning and counterfactual decompositions), discrimination, living wages
- Cross-country data harmonization, econometric analysis and drafting for the 2025 flagship report on inequality

Lidia Panico (CRIS, Sciences Po) Research Assistant Oct – Dec 2024

- Data analysis on neighborhood characteristics and children's test scores

Ministry of Labour and Social Policies (Rome), Directorate for the Fight Against Poverty Intern May – Aug 2024

- Public funds for poverty, disability and social exclusion: data cleaning, statistical analysis, report writing

Alfred Galichon (Sciences Po) Research Assistant Oct 2023 – May 2024

- Discrete choice, matching and equilibrium transport: demand estimation, equilibrium pricing; Scarf's ordinal basis algorithm for stable matchings with couples, multi-unit assignment for course allocation, Alkan–Gale matching equilibria; research assistance on Discrete Choice Models (Princeton University Press, 2026)

Daniela Iorio (University of Bologna) Research Assistant May – Jul 2023

- Gender gap in HIV exposure in Sub-Saharan Africa (regression analysis)
